Self-laudatory Brays of the Democratic Donkey Disgust Those Democrats Who Reason—Hot Shot from a New Yorker.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

ROCHESTER (N. Y.) July 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Press this morning says that Judge Gray's course in endorsing Parker's candidacy and discussing the issues surrounding it is in itself the strongest possible evidence that Parker's sincerity on those issues before he was nominated, on the impression that Field Marshal Gyanna and all his staff were sunk with the transports Hatchi and Sado, and that the Russians wholly disbelieve that Gen. Kourapatkin has ever been defeated.

STEAMER ARAGONIA LEAVES.
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

LONDON, Aug. 1.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Tokio correspondent of the Times sends a published reply of the Port Arthur garrison to the Japanese summons to surrender. This reply shows that the garrison is under the command of Field Marshal Gyanna and all his staff were sunk with the transports Hatchi and Sado, and that the Russians wholly disbelieve that Gen. Kourapatkin has ever been defeated.

demonstration upon the arrival of the Japanese in that town and that the British flag and also the United States flag were displayed alongside the Japanese flag, is denied. On entering the town, the Japanese captured a few towns. They gave each of them three roubles, then released them, and told them to tell the Russians that the Japanese never kill their prisoners.

JAPANESE TEA.
(EXPLAINED IN UNITED STATES.
(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

ASTORIA (Ore.) July 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mail advices from Yokohama say the war is not preventing the commission appointed by the Central Tea Guild from prosecuting its work of extending markets for Japanese tea in the United States and Canada. At a meeting held at Tokio, three weeks ago, it was decided to spend 10,000 yen in New York, 6,000 yen in Chicago, and 6,000 yen in Montreal; also to spend a small sum in advertising in American periodicals.

News

is brought of an important financial undertaking by Japanese and American capitalists, having for its object the establishment of an international bank with branches in San Francisco, New York, Tokio and possibly Yokohama. Its projectors are said to be Mr. Asano, president of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha, which operates a steamer line to San Francisco, and Mr. Nomura of the Nevada Bank of San Francisco.

According to statements made in Tokio, the bank is to have a capital of $10,000,000 in gold, and its particular object will be to serve and uphold trade between the United States and Japan.

chance to reflect his views and express his convictions.

Other members of the National Committee from the West and South have reflected the same spirit of resentment toward indications that close corporation methods might be attempted by a few eastern leaders.

SHEEHAN MUCH DISTURBED.

WESTERN DEMOCRATS KICKING.
(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

ESOPUS (N. Y.) July 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Parker's only important visitor today was William F. Sheehan, who, it is said, is much disturbed because the western members of the Democratic National Committee object to the way the management of the campaign practically has been made over by men selected by the Belmont-Hill-MacCarron combine. Protests have come to Taggart from other influential members of the National Committee informing the chairman that the campaign is being conducted by the Belmont-MacCarron syndicate, and not by the Belmont.

The visit of J. Edward Simmons, or more correctly speaking, his last visit, had as much to do with the State of the treasury of the National Committee. Simmons, it seems, represents many Gold Democrats and so-called Cleveland men and mudwumps, who are not to be confused with Hill, MacCarron and their friends with Parker's canvass will have a bad effect throughout the State, unless a candidate be nominated for Governor whose political record will be a guarantee that he will be in office in 1905.

Hill and Sheehan once more in the making of legislation in Albany.

Parker has been hearing from Buffalo Rochester, Syracuse, Albany, and the same thing, and it is evident that he is not popular.

Formerly Peabody told Parker that the candidate for Governor must be a man known for his moral courage and political integrity.

NEW YORK, July 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The most prominent Republicans here are Populists and Bryan Democrats, and now an adopted son of the tribe of Tammany, with which he has sworn "blood brotherhood," Charles A. Towne would like to be the Democratic candidate for Governor of this State.

Towne is the most deserving for the West, he confided to friends. He wants to head the Democratic State ticket, and has decided that, in his opinion he was likely to have Tammany's nomination if he did not nominate himself. As a former United States Senator—even if it was only for a month or so—Towne's friends say he would dignify the ticket in a way not to be reckoned from other who are seeking the nomination.

Ex-Gov. McMillin Withdraws.

MURDERERS PURSUED.

Hiding in Cedar Swamp Near Portage, Pa., the Murderers of Hays and Campbell Are Sought.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

PORTEGE (Pa.) July 31.—Pursued by 800 men, the three men who murdered Charles Hays, driver, and fatally wounded Patrick Campbell, paymaster of the Puritan Coal Company, a mile south of this place yesterday, were hiding in cedar swamp, one mile from Portage, on the Pennsylvania line. One of the fugitives is injured, but not so as to prevent his capture.

In parties of about twenty, the pursuing men are scattered out over the entire boundary of the laurel thicket and swamp, which is twelve miles long and eleven miles wide.

At 11 a.m., six miles south of Portage, the three men were fired upon by a party of one hundred men.

His companion lifted him to his feet, and the three hurried into the swamp, leaving a trail of blood. It was followed for fifty yards, but the men escaped. Tonight pickets are out watching every road leading from the swamp.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

ROCHESTER (N. Y.) July 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Henry O. Brewster, president of the Traders' Bank of this city and former representative from this district, thinks the Democrats are beginning the campaign with an argument that is on the borderland of childishness.

"The men who are prominent in the St. Louis convention are not worthy of the consideration of people, and yet if Parker is elected he would not be a candidate for me," said Brewster. "There is no financial policy. Their only claim on this point is that they are just as 'safe' and ' sane' as Republicans.

"They have applied to Parker's banner to telegraph to him the case against the Democratic candidate. If it is right for Gray to discuss campaign issues, while a member of the United States Congress, he should not be a candidate for me," said Brewster.

"The men who are prominent in the St. Louis convention are not worthy of the consideration of people, and yet if Parker is elected he would not be a candidate for me," said Brewster.

WHO ARE CLOSE

TO PARKER THE POLITICIAN.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, July 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With the return of the President to Washington numerous party leaders are coming to the capital, many of them after visits to New York, and all bring the story that Parker is a politician. The idea that the Democratic nominee is essentially a jurist, who will be "in the hands" of David B. Hill and "Billy" Sheehan is without foundation. The race, on the contrary, he is very much a political man, and is taking active charge of his campaign which will be a purely personally-conducted affair.

THEY WILL BE CLOSE.

Of course it is said that David B. Hill and "Billy" Sheehan will continue to be close to Parker. They will take part in his conference and advise him regarding politics, especially the politics of the New York campaign, but Parker himself will be in charge, as is shown by the fact that he is already issuing instructions for the conduct of the Democratic State ticket.

ONLY AN ILLUSION.

The picture of Parker as a practical politician may not prove to be pleasing to Democrats, especially the New York politicians, but he has no reason to believe that the Democratic party, which has not given up its control of the government, has found the best practical results—no additional seats in the national government down to the election.

If he supports Roosevelt on the ground that the Democracy has made no declaration for the gold standard, he will be in office without causing embarrassment till the end of his present term, when, according to present plans, he will be succeeded by a Republican.

BLOODSHED AT A PICNIC.

Drunken Hoodlums Capture Schuetzen Park.

Nearly Murder Barkeeper and the Foreman.

In Crazy Orgy Officers Are Trampled on.

Broken hands, battered faces and bruised ankles were strewed over Schuetzen Park yesterday afternoon. A rough house of drunken orgies was started by a gang of "Dogtown" hoodlums and a riot resulted in which a piano was smashed, musicians were driven from the pavilion, the park foreman was beaten almost into insensibility, the bar and tenpin alley were wrecked and a bartender was half murdered.

The row began about 5 o'clock in the afternoon and was kept up until a party of Hebrew picnickers were driven from the park, officers of the friends, anyway? Are not his real friends shadows of a generation whose bones are dust, and the lulling memories of brilliant scenes on yesterday's forgotten canvas?

The last job of this antique figure was in the apricot fields near Santa Barbara, where he had been honest and buggy, and a desire for complete independence and final retirement into the life of leisure that suited him.

HOLD-UP MAN IS CAPTURED.

Masked Highwayman Caught in Ocean Park.

Identified by Victim in Receiving Hospital.

Detectives Still Searching for Man's Accomplices.

Frank Atkinson, a livery stable roustabout, was arrested at Ocean Park yesterday afternoon on a charge of having held up Austin E. Trueman, the Burbank ranchman, who was brutally beaten by footpads Saturday night. Atkinson, together with a companion, was taken to the City Jail, where Trueman identified him as the man from whose face he had torn the mask when he desperately resisted his assailants.

Pointing to Atkinson, Trueman, who is still in the hospital from the effects of the beating he received, said: "This is the man that struck me with the rubber hose. I secured a look at his face when I tore the mask off; and see here that it is the place where I scratched him." And Trueman pointed to a mark on Atkinson's face.

The other man who was arrested with Atkinson could not be positively identified by Trueman, but he thought that he recognized in the man the person of a street urchin he had seen in Santa Monica after he had disposed of his melons and who asked him several times which route he would take in returning to the city. The man succeeded in convincing the detective that he was involved in the attempted highway robbery, however, and he was released.

Detectives detailed on the case were engaged yesterday trying to locate Atkinson's accomplice. Santa Monica and Ocean Park were thoroughly searched, but no trace of their identity could be found. Trueman's definite identification of Atkinson as one of the hold-up men will doubtless end the career of this embryonic Dick Turpin for a season, and the officers hope to catch the others who were implicated in the robbery but never recovered from his injuries, but his health has given him a great deal of trouble. He expects to leave the hospital soon.

In view of Trueman's physical condition, he will be set upon by masked highwaymen who stop upon him on Washington street, is considered wonderful. Belabored with a sandaled horse, wicked weapon—and driven down by the blow assault, the ranchman continued to fight through sheer desperation and succeeded in saving all of his money. He was so weak when found by Patrolman Kinney that he could not stand, and not until yesterday afternoon did he even partially recover from his experience.

Atkinson is six feet tall and looks as if he could easily handled Trueman alone.

SWIMMING RACES.

Everything is ready now but taking water in the big swimming and diving contests that will take place at Ocean Park Sunday. The water is fine, everything is in shape except some of an oil slick from which the divers will jump to the bottom of the sea in their lofty tumbling stunts.

The following officials have been chosen to have charge of the events: A. A. Lawton, referee; B. H. Dyas, clerk of course; W. Garrett and J. D. McFadden, judges; Dr. J. C. George, judge; R. E. Ward, field judge; G. F. Fay, R. M. Cooper and L. Woodward, timers; C. S. Tappan, starter; MacCawder, scorer; P. Ferguson, announcer.

The principal events as given before in these columns will be 100-yard races for men and boys under 18 years of age, and a half-mile race. The 100-yard race will be run in two heats, a final, and three prizes will be given for each of these races. In addition to these events there will be an exhibition of life saving, high diving competitions, trampolining, boat racing and rowing, and a matador battle between eight-eared bulls brought from Playa del Rey and Ocean Park.

SMITH IS IMPROVING.

William Smith, the negro whose heart was stitched up by Police Surgeon Smith, is improving at the County Hospital. Some fears of pneumonia or peritonitis were entertained, but Dr. Smith said that the negro was in good condition, and that he was entirely free from these symptoms, and the chances for his recovery are now considered more favorable than at any time since the operation was performed.

law were trampled under foot and the place was in complete possession of the hoodlums who revelled and drank until they were in a beastly state of intoxication.

The orgies eclipsed anything ever seen in the vicinity of Los Angeles, and all of the guilty parades escaped through lack of proper police protection.

The trouble was precipitated when a gang of toughs numbering about twenty and headed by a character named "Curly" Davis entered the park and surrounded the piano in the orchestra stall. A Hebrew benevolent society known as the C.E.L.Y.Z.A. had been holding a picnic and all went well until the hoodlums entered the pavilion. "Curly" and his friends swooped down upon the piano during an intermission and taking possession of the instrument, began to sing wild and noisy songs. The park foreman, who is known as "Big Joe," attempted to quiet the boisterous crowd, but he was knocked down and the song was broken almost to a pulp. Officers Holman and Fernandez, who are deputy sheriffs detailed at the park, ran to the assistance of "Big Joe" but they were swept away by the now furiously fighting mass of hoodlums. In the混战, two waiters assisted by a bartender, tried to stem the tide of battle, but they were trampled and beaten mercilessly.

The crowd of toughs seemed to be particularly interested in the bartender, and he was thrown into the pit at the end of the tenpin alley where a dozen men piled on him and nearly crushed his life out. Then the men crawled out and the bartender, a number of officers were surrounding the swamps where he is believed to be in hiding.

Pedro Aguilera has gone into retirement.

Pedro Aguilera is one of the oldest Mexican laborers in Los Angeles. Many years ago he came up the coast on a fishing schooner, drifting through the pleasant waters all the way from Lower California, and ever since he has been trying to get money enough to go home again.

The little row of houses on the corner of Belgrave avenue and Buena Vista street, containing a motley horde of peon population in their many snug walls, ancient Aguilera most of all.

He drifted around the country, making money and spending it, winning pot-holes, getting odd jobs, and blowing his mackings off for one grand, good time, and devoutly hoping to find a place in the "also rans." The drooping bones fairly hatched in heat, which was flowing ankle deep in the bar.

In the meantime the Hebrew picnickers, wild with terror, had fled into their homes from the park, leaving their baskets behind them. The police at the central station were notified by telephone, but as the park is beyond the city limits, no officers could be sent out.

The hoodlums remained in the park until they had gorged themselves thoroughly.

Deputies Holman and Fernandez came to the city after they found they could not cope with the gang.

They knew the ring-leaders and warrants will be sworn out for their arrest. The two Richlins went to the Receiving Hospital where their cuts and bruises were bandaged, but "Big Joe" and the Arlendines came home to a house at the park where a physician attended them.

In justice to the managers of the park and the promoters of the picnic it can be said that they were in no way responsible for the riot.

Pedro Aguilera has gone into retirement.

Pedro Aguilera is one of the oldest Mexican laborers in Los Angeles. Many years ago he came up the coast on a fishing schooner, drifting through the pleasant waters all the way from Lower California, and ever since he has been trying to get money enough to go home again.

The little row of houses on the corner of Belgrave avenue and Buena Vista street, containing a motley horde of peon population in their many snug walls, ancient Aguilera most of all.

He drifted around the country, making money and spending it, winning pot-holes, getting odd jobs, and blowing his mackings off for one grand, good time, and devoutly hoping to find a place in the "also rans."

The drooping bones fairly hatched in heat, which was flowing ankle deep in the bar.

Aguilera claimed to be the oldest peon laborer in this section—that is, the honest ones. He averred that he had been working six days a week in the vicinity ever since 1878 and that if there was a man who could beat him at that, he might come up and show his record.

His story is said to be one of remarkable interest, in that he at one time possessed the title to one of the richest Mexican mines, but the eternal "Tolstoi," weaving its net into the Mexican's atmosphere, took him off from seizing his rights until it was too late to claim them. The gringo, with American ingenuity and Yankee energy, perfected a plan of claim-taking throughout the south of Russia, who has forsworn his native land, and his simple peasant life has been bounded from principality to principality by the ceaseless agents of the political chiefs dominating the Russian ministry.

Aguilera has no people. He had a wife, who died a number of years ago, and whose children have all grown up and left for other parts of the country. His friends—where are an old man's over a thousand people, of the

Czar's former peasantry, are now on their way to Los Angeles from the East.

They are not allied with any body which has preceded them to this section, but are simply humble, hard-working agricultural laborers, freed from oppression in their native land.

C. Freeman, former secretary of the Schenck, Tatum & Schenck Company, is trying to secure a large tract of land for them in Southern California, and probably locate it not far from this city—if a bargain can be secured.

Lyceroff, who is rumored on his word to be the oldest peasant in the world, has a thousand people, of the most picturesque figures in the spread of education among the peasants of his land. Himself a man of powerful physique, he served for years in the Russian infantry, and gained there a knowledge of arms which is reputed to have stood him magnificently in many a fray.

He is not highly educated, but has formed his own opinions. Like Tolstoi, he believes that the man who will not work should not eat, and accordingly follows the blacksmith's trade, keeping a small farming establishment as well.

HOLD-UP OF TRAIN.

Three Masked Men Use Explosives on Rock Island Express Car Safe Near Logan, Tex., to no Purpose. Posse After the Robbers.

EL PASO, July 31.—The Rock Island passenger train which left El Paso Saturday morning northbound, was held up Saturday night at 11 o'clock at Logan, Tex., a station thirty miles north of Tucumcari, New Mexico, and twenty miles north of Santa Rosa, the division point.

Seven masked robbers boarded the train just as it was moving out of Logan, uncoupled the baggage and express cars, and went on with the engine. Conductor John York resisted, and was shot in the leg.

The train was run ahead a short distance when it was stopped, and dynamite applied. The small safe was placed on top of a large one, with dynamite between the two. The larger safe was exploded, and the small safe through the roof of the car, the larger one not being injured. The small safe was replaced, and the second charge of dynamite put between the two safes, with the same result, except that the small safe was this time blown through the side of the car.

The robbers then mounted their horses and rode away in the darkness.

Officers were advised this morning of the holdup, and are on the trail of the man, who are believed to be the "Evans gang." They have not been molested by the robbers, and many do not know the robbery was in progress, as most of them were asleep. Owing to the remoteness of Logan, the details of the holdup were not obtained until tonight, when a southbound Rock Island passenger train arrived here.

"We have had our regular stop at Logan, when both myself and fireman were covered with guns and ordered to move up. We did as ordered, and stopped the train. The robbers fired, but the only one hit us in the engine. The robbers and express car and express car and safe were again ordered to stop, and when they did not, we opened fire on them. They then got out of the express car and attacked the through train with explosives. They exploded two charges of dynamite on the safe, but failed to effect an entrance.

"Flaming up on the explosives, the men got off the express car, and the express car and passengers were not disturbed. The explosions badly wrecked the express car and safe. The local safe did not contain any money, consequently the robbers did not secure anything."

A posse from Delhart, headed by Sheriff Webb, was rushed to the scene of the holdup, and at a late hour this evening, it is said, they have the robbers surrounded and expect to make a capture.

TRADESMEN SATISFIED WITH THE PRESIDENT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CRANTON (Pa.) July 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Michael T. Burke, Henry Herskovits and Frank McFertry, the committees of local tradesmen, who waited on the President, with the resolutions requesting the President to interfere in behalf of the miners in Colorado, made their report here this afternoon. They said the first trip to Owyhee Bay was unsatisfactory, because they did not see the President. This disappointment, they said, was due to no fault of the President, the clerk in his office failing to notify him that they wanted to see him.

The trusts controlled the St. Louis convention, and says:

"From Buzzard's Bay to Woolfert's Root, from Wall to Lombard streets, is sounded and echoed and reechoed here this slogan of the present campaign: 'Another Cleveland; another administration like that of from 1892 to 1896; more soup-bouses; more bond issues; more forced idleness; less honest toll; more money in the pocket-jacket; less bread for hungry millions; more Coxey's armies; less public improvements; more keep off the grass; less comfort for God's poor; more smokeless smokestacks; more tramps; more troops for Chicago rioters; less liberty for American workmen; more government by injunction; less jury trials; more banks; less money for people; more business stagnation; less enterprise; more sheriffs' sales; more poor relief.'

"Such conduct, such conditions, such leadership is to be had by the action of the St. Louis convention, safe and conservative. Every unlawful and criminal trust was legally, actually and properly represented in that body. The only trust, I believe, forgotten or ignored by that convention was trust in God, as evidenced by the hooting and shouting during the prayer of the chaplain. It was natural that a convention made drunken by contributions from the Louisville and Nashville, the Standard Oil, the Sugar Trust and kindred interests, could not give birth to a legitimate standard-bearer of true Democracy.

"For these reasons I cannot and will not vote for Alton B. Parker, agreeing with many of my associates that the initials of his name stand for 'A Bad Proposition.'

W. W. MC LAUCHLAN?

Men and brethren, let us reason awhile together, "for the good of our service."

Southern California is at this time in its period of greatest development, its greatest promise. It is not exaggeration to say that Southern California is today one of the busiest and most progressive sections of equal areas in the world. During the past several years many great enterprises have been brought to a successful consummation; more of them, of like importance, are now being pushed forward, and still more of them, of even greater magnitude and extent, have been projected for the future. Southern California vibrates with bounding commercial life and vigorous industrial health. The go-ahead spirit fills its air. Its one-time infant industries have matured, and other strong and promising ones are coming into being every day. It is a time for Southern California to push its advantages, draw upon its greatest resources, stimulate the ambitions and energies of its citizens and pull together in all things in order to lift this section of the State to that high and commanding position which it merits, which it now promises to attain and which it can surely reach if all things are made to work together toward that end.

The relation of Southern California to many great national enterprises is such that this particular section of the West can receive a tremendous uplift through the efforts of its representatives in Congress. The entire country is straining to secure aid in measures of various kinds from the national government. In the halls of Congress there is an unrelenting contest among members to secure, each for his own section of the country, the sustaining and upbuilding support of the government. Conditions are such that the representative who gets results must be keen of mind, quick to see and take advantage of opportunities, active and energetic in behalf of his constituents, unremitting in his efforts. He must be a positive force, not a negative quantity—a force that can command the esteem and respect of his colleagues upon whom he must rely for help in his work; a force that can gain and exercise influence in the national Legislature; a force that can initiate, plan and bring to a successful maturity measures essential to the well-being of his constituents.

Narrowing the matter down more closely, what has been said above applies not alone to Southern California, but to the Seventh Congressional District, which is admittedly one of the most important Congressional districts in the nation, with Los Angeles as its chief city. Obviously, then, the Congressman from the Seventh District should be a power in Congress; should be a man whose abilities are commensurate with the recognized importance of that district; a man who can both see opportunities and achieve results. The welfare of the Seventh District, particularly at this critical period in its development, depends in large measure upon the ability of its representative in Congress. Certainly none can question the calm truth of the foregoing statement.

And it lies with the delegates to the forthcoming Republican Congressional convention of the Seventh District to place the right man in Congress as its representative in the Lower House of the national Legislature. The matter is in their hands and the responsibility is of such import as to call for their careful consideration, their wis-cause to pale into insignificance all the tales of death and disaster that the world has ever heard before. Human nature is likely to be taught such lessons as will wean it forever from all its savage hereditary thirsts for blood. And if this should prove to be the case, if this war in Manchuria should so result that it would make the world sick of war, once and for all, then even the bomb-carrying balloon will not have been invented in vain. Heaven sees the day when strife shall be no more; when men shall live in peace with each other and the green earth shall be free from the stain of human blood.

CAUSES OF VAGRANCY.

A few weeks ago, the Sunset Club of Los Angeles took up for discussion at one of its monthly meetings "The Causes of Vagrancy." Some of the points connected with this interesting and important question were not referred to by the reader of the chief paper and the subsequent speakers, or was only incidentally mentioned.

That this is a question of growing importance, and one which threatens the integrity of our social fabric, unless some means are adopted to check the growth of the rapidly-increasing class of men who neither till nor spin, admits of no dispute. During the past twenty years, the tramp yell in this country has assumed a more serious and menacing phase. The professionals tramps in this country constitute a ragged army, the numerical size of which would astonish the country, if a correct census could be taken.

It is not only in America that this condition of affairs prevails, although probably here to a greater extent than in any other land. After a careful investigation of conditions in the slums of London, the greatest city in the world, which he has so graphically set forth in a recently-published book, Jack London says:

"Civilization has increased man's producing power, a hundredfold, and through mismanagement the men of civilization live in poverty, and have less to eat and wear, and protect them from the elements than the savage innuit in a frigid climate who lives today as he lived in the stone age ten thousand years ago."

This statement certainly furnishes food for thought, and to the inquiry of those of us which caused civilization to climb up out of the depths, to their own benefit and that of the country at large, to whom their present existence is a constant menace.

Judge Parker, having had experience in the management of camps, has set out little work in the "hot air" that is being dealt with him by the politicians who visit Europe. Instead of being buoyed up by the optimists the Democratic standard bearer is in the dumps. It was said that Parker didn't consider himself to be bigger than his party, but he certainly seems to be more "mixed up."

There have been battles fought upon the sea and under it. There also have been battles above the clouds, but they were carried on by troops that had mountain tops for footing. Next comes the clash of the war balloons in mid-air, thousands of feet above terra firma. War will then be even worse than what Gen. Sherman said it is.

Political speech making is scheduled to begin about the middle of September. In the meantime, however, we have no guarantee that either W. J. Bryan or "Ham" Lewis will consider themselves gassed.

The striking boilermakers of San Francisco and Los Angeles having decided to throw in the sponge, now desire to "live" themselves upon the shop again. They will find them open."

The first war balloon has already appeared. It was sent up by the Russians at Motien Pass. Now look out for battles in the air.

It is now claimed that the smoking of tobacco causes badness. This warning will at least prevent women from acquiring the habit.

The Vladivostok squadron is about as hard to catch as Stonewall Jackson was forty years ago.

If those rains keep up we will next hear of people leaving Arizona on account of the dampness.

BIG WASHOUTS IN ARIZONA PLAY HAVOC WITH LOS ANGELES POSTAL MATTER TO AND FROM POINTS EAST OF NEEDLES—NOTHING RECEIVED HERE UNTIL THREE O'CLOCK THIS MORNING.

The serious washouts along the Santa Fe line in Arizona have played havoc with the mails from Los Angeles for points east of Needles, and the mails coming west from beyond that point.

The night force at the local postoffice was waiting with enforced patience at midnight for the mail from the East that should have been here at 4 o'clock yesterday morning. Advises Dr. Daniel of the prophesied 3 o'clock this morning.

Mail that was dispatched for Arizona and eastern points yesterday morning was turned back at Barstow and started around via the Southern Pacific, pouches for Central and Northern Arizona going through Maricopa. Mail will continue to be sent East by this route until regular schedules are restored in the water-wrecked regions.

GOSPEL TEMPERANCE.

Entertainment and Pledge Signing Mark the Francis Murphy Meeting in Blanchard Hall.

A new horror.

The terms of The Hague agreement precluding the use of balloons as vehicles for the carrying of explosives in warfare are about to expire, and the dispatches from the far East indicate that both the Russians and the Japanese are prepared to take advantage of the situation and will attempt the balloon experiment. The idea is so revolting, so horrible and devilish in conception that the dullest imagination must recoil in terror at the mere thought of its execution. As though man had not yet devised enough for the annihilation of his fellow man on fields of battle—what with fire-reaching guns, submarine mines, torpedo boats, bombs and all that—he will now carry his frightful instruments of destruction into mairds and hurl them down upon defenseless cities and towns and bivouacked battalions. No wonder that civilized nations mutually agreed through the tribunal of The Hague to exclude from the action of war an agency so inconceivably cruel.

There will be news from the Orient when the war balloon goes into operation—news that will make the heart sick and that, in all probability, will and thus counteract the drift of population to the cities and turn it back to the land.

"G. That children should be taught to farm, as they are now taught in France and Denmark, in the public schools and that farm-training schools should be established in our communities, where every boy and every man out of work who wants employment, where he can gain the knowledge, can learn to farm. All the land and their living should come from the ground, and where boys would be taught that their first aim in life should be to get a home of their own on the land."

"H. That the speaker read the first anniversary of their existence as a church, yesterday morning, with a congregation that overflowed the auditorium. It was a home birthday party. RELIEF SENT FROM THE CITY.*Men and Munitions Hurried to Flooded District.Santa Fe Repairing Damage
by Rushing Waters.Eastbound Trains Detoured by the Espee's Tracks.*

Officers of the operating department of the Santa Fe have been working night and day over the big washout in Arizona, which was the largest and most sudden of the kind that ever occurred west of Albuquerque. Los Angeles was called upon for help, and material was sent with which to close the trackless stretches and span the bridgeless ravines.

Two trains left this city early yesterday morning, one bearing two bridge-building gangs of twenty-five men and the other hauling about twenty cars of ties and railroad material. Miss Elizabeth B. Bush of the Santa Fe coast lines left on the first train.

Before the water had subsided the men were on the ground ready and anxious to repair the damage. The work of the employees of the Santa Fe in this case was fine, showing that disgruntled union freights have had no effect on the working forces along the line.

"The men jumped into the job like a fire department at sound of the gong," said John R. Hitchcock, chief clerk to General Manager Arthur G. Wells yesterday. "Full reports now are in and we expect to be running trains over the washed-out district by Tuesday night. If this is accomplished our east-bound trains will be making a detour, switching onto the Southern Pacific at Colton and passing over that system to Maricopa, where they turn north to Phoenix, again on the Santa Fe. This is a matter of common courtesy among railroads. The west-bound trains are most of them annulled and some of them will be a day or two late, but the mail will be well cared for and the mail will be rushed along by way of the detour.

"No one but a railroad man can appreciate the extent of the damage, which is thirty-foot wall of rushing water can do to a roadbed. It must have been terrible, and yet a grand sight. That no lives were lost or trains wrecked was due to mere good fortune that it happened when the trains were not in the locality. Now the danger is passed, and those who go east may be assured that far from being in any risk, they are even safer, because the utmost precaution will be taken in passing over the new roadbed."

"How did you meet such a sudden demand for construction crews?" was asked.

"One hour after the first report came to Needles a train bearing about two hundred men on their way to the scene of the washout. Two loads of ties and construction material followed and before the water had subsided the work of rebuilding had begun. We were sent in twice that night, being the principal item in connection with the work, as the ties are used for cribbing, as we can call it. Cribbing is filling up ravines and carrying the bridges when they have washed out, with ties, so that the temporary track can be laid across. The ties are piled up in large stacks and will stand any amount of weight."

"The work was in charge of Superintendent John Denair of Truxton, who went out on the first train and who is always there the minute there is any trouble. Anything he can do is done. The line of repairing a railroad can't be done, and when John Denair is on the job the higher officials do not worry. The men are paid double time, and can stand it, some of them holding out for twenty-four hours without sleep. They are paid double time through all and enter into the spirit of it."

"Where was the greatest damage?"

"Between Hackberry and Truxton, a distance of twelve miles. Of course this was not all absolutely washed out. I don't know how long the stretch is half a mile. The road in the district is crooked as a dog's hind leg, and winds back and forth across the cañon, being twelve or fifteen bridges. Of these, probably only two were washed away. Both of them were eighty-foot steel bridges, built, it was supposed, to withstand any torrent that might come roaring down. But such was not the case. In Crosier Cañon just before daylight on Saturday morning was something that all the ingenuity of man could not successfully combat. One of those big bridges was torn right off its piers and carried 150 feet down stream. Between Bagdad and Danby five cars of the company's oil were washed off the track, but with little damage, except the oil leaking out and sending the men working in Crosier Cañon sixty miles between Goff and Bagdad, and also between Goff and Danby."

"Can you please estimate on the amount of damage done?"

"That is a very difficult thing to attempt to do and the exact amount will never be known. While it will cost thousands of dollars to repair the work, and that in the long run it is an ill deluge was good for the country out there, notwithstanding all the damage of the loss of oil through the bettered business conditions of the farmers and cattlemen. In our own hearts and rejoicing because for the last few months we have had to haul water and oil for our engines. The Santa Fe own a reservoir at Seligman, which holds enough water for two years. That reservoir was all but dry, so you can see how badly the country needed rain. Our reservoirs at Winsor, Belmont, Williamsburg, Ash Hill, etc., were all dry, and after all the deluge we are blessed. Most of the ties and steel will be recovered and the rails will not be in bad shape."

"What precautions are taken against floods?"

"The floods don't occur very often, but the company has spent a very large amount of money in digging ditches to turn the water away from the track. In some cases the ditches start three-quarters of a mile from the track and are thrown up with grading machines to considerable height and twenty feet wide. Their object is to gather all the water and carry it along until some favorable place is reached for shooting it under the track or turning it aside altogether. Many of these ditches were filled up and will be reopened again at big expense."

"For completeness and efficiency, there is nothing to compare with the train service of the New York Central. They make express trains they operate four limited trains daily among them the fastest long-distance train in the world."

[NEWS REPORTS FROM TIMES CORRESPONDENTS.]

VOTERS TURNED UNIONS DOWN.

SAN BERNARDINO HAS NEW BOARD OF FREEHOLDERS.

Laborites Had Ticket in Field and Tried to Run Things, but Were Badly Defeated—Papers in Important Water Suit Being Prepared. Man Takes Poison by Mistake.

SAN BERNARDINO. July 31.—The freeholders' election Saturday resulted in the selection by the voters of the ticket prepared and indorsed by the Board of Trade and City Trustees. When the movement for an election to select fifteen freeholders to draft a city charter was carried to a point indicating its success, numerous persons commenced to flood the city with independent tickets, principal among this class being the unions here, which sent the strikers in all directions to drown their ticket. The union ticket, even in localities supposed to be strongly in sympathy with the unions, failed to get much of a vote. The freeholders selected are John Anderson, H. C. Rolfe, H. M. Barton, A. G. Kendall, F. W. Gregg, W. S. Hooper, J. L. Harwood, John Ingoldsby, George M. Coolay, J. W. Cattin, F. B. Dailey, M. L. Cook, L. D. Houghton, F. W. Gregg and L. R. Brunn. The official count will be made Tuesday.

PREPARED TO SUICIDE.

The Hesperia Land and Water Company, owing interests along the Mojave River, is collecting evidence upon which to base a suit against the Arrowhead Reservoir Company claiming that the company is preparing to drain the Mojave River to secure water for this side of the mountains. This trouble has been brewing ever since the Arrowhead Reservoir Company started work on its big project among the San Bernardino Mountains.

GOT WRONG BOTTLE.

E. Ackerman, shipping clerk at Brookings's box factory at Highlands, had a narrow escape from death by accidentally taking poison. He had been taking medicine and got hold of the wrong bottle, taking a highly-poisonous liquid. Quick realization of his mistake, he set forth on a mad race for the doctor, and fell in convulsions at the physician's door, being able just to gasp out that he had taken poison. After heroic treatment and hard work, the physician succeeded in saving his life.

NOTES OF THE NEWS.

Ignacio Carrillo, the Mexican who a few days ago attacked N. B. Curtis of San Bernardino with a knife, inflicting a deep wound, has been held to answer before the Superior Court. Numerous men and women of Los Angeles men have been investigating the mining properties in Lytle Creek, and have made an offer of $10,000 for a group of sixteen claims, intending to install expensive machinery and work the property on a large scale if the deal is made.

The officers are looking for David Webb, an inmate who escaped from the Southern California State Hospital at the Inglewood State Hospital. He is said to be a dangerous lunatic.

SANTA ANA.

SCALE AND PARASITES. Santa Ana, July 31.—The Santa Ana Farmers' Club held a meeting of unusual interest and importance last night at the home of C. E. Buell on South Main street for the consideration of beneficial and injurious parasites with especial reference to the citrus fruits and the conditions prevailing in Orange county.

The discussion of the evening was by Dr. W. B. Ball, who gave a sketch of the life histories of the various parasites, illustrating with specimens from life under a compound microscope and with chart drawings. The speaker treated first the black scale and ventured the assertion that within five years fumigating and spraying to destroy the scale will be unnecessary on account of the importation of scutellaria. The first colony of scutellaria was received in Orange county by Dr. W. B. Ball of within three years and in a second colony arrived the same year for A. H. Bibber of Orange. Subsequently about ten more small colonies were liberated in different orchards, and now, according to the Agricultural Commissioner, the County Agricultural Commissioners' Council, there is not a citrus orchard in the entire county where they are not at work. They multiply very rapidly, and whenever they have been held successful, the scale has been held successfully in check. Mr. Bishop made the point that the scutellaria will never wholly exterminate the scale, as no parasite exists that feeds but it will live well under control.

Mr. Bishop also spoke of and illustrated the red scale and its effective parasite, the golden calyched fly, which is also present in practically every Orange county citrus orchard and has been examined. The possibility of a successful enemy for the purple scale in the member of the rhizobia family, Aspergillus niger Dicks, as a parasite for scale insects was discussed and members of the club were urged to obtain specimens of this parasite if possible and experiment with it. The San Diego Horticultural Commission has been directed, according to report, that its work against purple scale is very effective.

A large number was present and the programs and scale were freely discussed. Mutual selections were made by Mrs. Barton. The club holds its next meeting at the home of Dr. E. F. Greenleaf on Greenleaf street, August 1.

APRICOT SEASON ENDS.

The harvest of the apricot crop of the county is practically completed with the exception of a few belated crops, which will handle the last of their fruit the first of this week. The reports from different sections give the total crop at about twice that of last year, and considerably larger than in 1902. The fruit is of a high grade as regards size, and the valley fruit, although smaller, is of excellent flavor and color. The highest price thus far offered is 75¢ per case, while the bulk of the crop is receiving bids of 6¢ and 6½ cents. Many dryers are holding for higher prices.

SANTA ANA NOTES.

A match race for a purse of $100 for each side was run at the race track yesterday afternoon between a sorrel

MARCHING CLUB FOR RIVERSIDE.

REPUBLICANS TO FOLLOW SANTA ANA'S EXAMPLE.

Uniformed Organization to be Established for Future Political Demonstrations—Campaign Insured to Thoroughly Clean the City Before Next Tourist Season.

RIVERSIDE. July 31.—A movement is on foot among the younger Republicans of this city to organize a Roosevelt Marching Club, similar to one in the Los Angeles "Busters," but on a less elaborate scale. No papers have yet been circulated for signatures, but the originators of the idea have been working enthusiastically, and a meeting will be called some time this week to give the proposition definite form.

Riverside has never had a regularly-organized marching club, but the interested ones think that such an organization will be well supported and as successful in this city as the Columbia Marching Club is in Santa Ana. The very fact that a great demonstration is not needed to carry the Republi- can ticket, Riverside thinks, makes some organization of this nature the more necessary to keep the younger voters interested and informed on political questions.

The first step is to organize a battalion, elect a staff of officers, and adopt a uniform and then begin holding regular drills.

BOOMING CLEAN STREETS.

A general movement is gaining force among Riverside citizens for a campaign for clean streets and general beautification. The opening guns for this campaign were fired recently at a meeting of prominent citizens and officials at the Glenwood Hotel. While the meeting was not of a public nature and no definite plan could be formulated, the general audience, east and west, attended because enthused with the idea that he has constituted himself a committee of one to agitate the proposition. Some publicspirited citizens, however, are in favor of the general meeting, as follows:

"Let us have a general movement right now to clean up the streets and beautify Riverside. Won't the boys of the Victoria Club or some other organization turn up a country site? Can't the use of the Lorring Theater be secured free? Won't the Riverine Club furnish the music?"

"Won't the Riverside and Arlington Railways give us a free transportation to and from the entertainment? Won't someone else offer something free? Can't we furnish a dinner room or some place to which our good and bad friends will come to patronize us? Won't we all patronize it? Those who are swallowing the dust the doctors say are unhealthy; those who haul garbage are healthy; let us have every which with which to haul people; those who have things to sell, 'The butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker,' won't we all buy a 50-cent meal?"

"By God! I am going to see that the Express is connected with us by way of the new Salt Lake road. There will be a big celebration; let us make ready for the visitors now. This matter is important to Riverside than the fall of Poor Arthur."

POSITION CONDEMNED.

The "public spirit" in the consideration of P. T. Evans to deed the city and county a right of way across the Riverside Land and Improvement Company's lands for the West Riverside bridge, with the reservation of granting franchise privileges across the bridge, is being very generally and severely questioned. To take the course of the present Board of Supervisors, with regard to the giving of the franchise over the public highways out of the hands of the city and county and place it in the hands of a private individual, no matter how "public-spirited" he may be, is a poor position to take, and the general sentiment is that it would be better to condemn a right of way for the bridge. The fact that the present Board of Supervisors, with the exception of the chairman, are in full accord with it by the imported parasite, scutellaria. The first colony of scutellaria was received in Orange county by Dr. W. B. Ball of within three years and in a second colony arrived the same year for A. H. Bibber of Orange. Subsequently about ten more small colonies were liberated in different orchards, and now, according to the Agricultural Commissioner, the County Agricultural Commissioners' Council, there is not a citrus orchard in the entire county where they are not at work. MCALLEN'S LUNCHEON.

CAVALRYMEN NOT HORSEMEN.

One of the army inspectors in a report of his observations at military posts says there is a lack of efficiency in horsemanship among officers and men of the cavalry, and that at most cavalry posts there is insufficient training and instruction in the duties of the army and country post too, that in one troop no less than thirty-five cavalrymen were reported as unmanageable, and would ordinarily have been condemned, but the post commander insisted that there was a lack of sufficient training of the animals, which work, lasting six months, resulted in producing the required efficiency among the horses and saved to the service thirteen dollars a day for the cavalry duties. At some posts the horses are groomed only once a day, and it is considered that cavalry and light harnessed horses should be groomed twice a day. Orders to effect this will probably be issued.—[New York Tribune].
